Reference Collections of U.S. Patents and Trademarks
Available for Public Use in Patent and Trademark Depository Libraries

The following libraries, designated as Patent and Trademark Depository Libraries (PTDLs), receive patent and trademark information in various formats from the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office. Many PTDLs have on file all full-text patents issued since 1790, trademarks published since 1872, and select collections of foreign patents. All PDTLs have both the patent and trademark sections of the Official Gazette of the U. S. Patent and Trademark Office. The full-text utility and design patents are distributed numerically on 16 mm microfilm, and plant patents on color microfiche. Patent and trademark search systems on CD-ROM (Compact Disc-Read Only) format are available at all PTDLs to increase utilization of and enhance access to the information found in patents and trademarks. It is through the CD-ROM systems that preliminary patent and trademark searches can be conducted through the numerically arranged collections.

All information is available for use by the public free of charge.

In addition, each PTDL offers reference publications which outline and provide access to the patent and trademark classification systems, as well as other documents and publications which supplement the basic search tools. PTDLs provide technical staff assistance in using all materials. Facilities for making paper copies of patent and trademark information are generally provided for a fee.

Since there are variations in the scope of patent and trademark collections among the PTDLs, and their hours of service to the public vary, anyone contemplating use of these collections at a particular library is urged to contact that library in advance about its collections, services, and hours in order to avert possible inconvenience.

SECTION 2.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. Peel-Off Response Labels for Trademark Applications

Beginning Dec. 1, 1992, the PTO's Trademark Operation will implement a new procedure designed to facilitate handling of responses to Office actions for pending applications. A peel-off sticker referencing the Application Serial Number, the mark, and the Law Office will be provided with each Office action. Applicants, or their attorneys, will be instructed to place the pre-printed label on the upper right-hand corner of the required response. Use of the pre-printed label is expected to improve the accuracy and efficiency of matching correspondence with the correct application file by ensuring that the correct application information is identified on the response.

Electronic Information Dissemination Policy

BACKGROUND

The current guidelines and policies of the Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) concerning the dissemination of information in electronic form were published in 1989 in the Official Gazette and in the Federal Register. Current policies state that PTO's "Dissemination goal will be provided directly ... by providing electronic search and retrieval services to the public in search facilities located in the PTO, in other facilities which may be established by the Government and in Patent Depository Libraries (PDLs)," but that the PTO "will seek to avoid competition with private sector firms in providing such services to the public outside the PTO search facilities and PDLs." Revisions to OMB Circular A-130 and PTO's authorizing legislation make it necessary to amend the current policies to allow for the possibility of direct public access to PTO data bases, and to clarify the criteria that will be used in deciding the vehicle for dissemination.

The PTO, in formulating revisions to its policies and procedures to reflect these changes, intends to use the following statement of principles as the basis for structuring its policy and for developing the Office's information dissemination program. Comments on this notice may be directed to the Director for Information Resources and Services, U.S. Patent and Trademark Office, Washington, D.C. 20231.

INFORMATION DISSEMINATION: General Statement of Principles

The overall mission goal of the United States Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) with respect to the issuance of patents derives from Article 1, Section 8, clause 8, of the U.S. Constitution which states that Congress shall have the power "To promote the Progress of Science and useful Arts, by securing for limited Times to ... Inventors the exclusive Right to their ... Discoveries". The PTO's mission goal with respect to the granting of trademark registrations derives from Article 1, Section 8, clause 3, of the Constitution which states that Congress shall have power "To regulate Commerce with foreign Nations, and among the several States ... ."

As an integral part of its mission, PTO is responsible for assuring that patent and trademark information is available to all sectors of society that have a need for, and can make use of, the information. Through dissemination of such information, PTO provides the means to:

(1) foster the competent preparation of patent and trademark applications;
(2) avoid infringement of patents and trademarks; and
(3) understand the current state of the art as a basis for developing new technology.

As an important part of its information dissemination efforts, PTO will strive to have relevant information resources made generally available in the United States in the most useful form and at a reasonable price. This will include not only its own internal information resources but also, to the extent possible, those of other industrial property offices throughout the world.

The private sector has considerable experience in the packaging and distribution of information products and services. The PTO will continue to work through these private sector firms by facilitating their access to PTO's internal information resources and purchasing, where appropriate, finished products and services for PTO's own internal use.

The PTO will continue to rely on the nationwide network of Patent and Trademark Depository Libraries as a significant means of providing broad public access to its information products and services. PTO will work with these libraries to take advantage of the advances in information technology.

Generally, PTO will provide products and services directly to end-users in those circumstances where:

(1) a significant need exists; and either
(2) a. access to existing internal PTO information resources permit major economies in the preparation and distribution of specific information products and services through the avoidance of large scale duplication of equipment or processing; or
b. PTO is in a unique position, because of its governmental functions, to provide information that is sufficiently timely, accurate, or comprehensive.

In all cases, PTO will offer its information products and services at a price sufficient to recover the marginal costs of its information dissemination activities.

PTO will also work toward standardization and compatibility among various patent and trademark related information products and services available in the marketplace to enhance their overall usefulness to both the intellectual property and research and development communities.

Reference Collections of U.S. Patents and Trademarks Available for Public Use in Patent and Trademark Depository Libraries

The following libraries, designated as Patent and Trademark Depository Libraries (PTDLs), receive patent and trademark information in various formats from the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office. Many PTDLs have on file all full-text patents issued since 1790, trademarks published since 1872, and select collections of foreign patents. All PDTLs have both the patent and trademark sections of the Official Gazette of the U. S. Patent and Trademark Office. The full-text utility and design patents are distributed numerically on 16 mm microfilm, and plant patents on color microfiche. Patent and trademark search systems on CD-ROM (Compact Disc-Read Only) format are available at all PTDLs to increase utilization of and enhance access to the information found in patents and trademarks. It is through the CD-ROM systems that prelminary patent and trademark searches can be conducted through the numerically arranged collections.

All information is available for use by the public free of charge.

In addition, each PTDL offers reference publications which outline and provide access to the patent and trademark classification systems, as well as other documents and publications which supplement the basic search tools. PTDLs provide technical staff assistance in using all materials. Facilities for making paper copies of patent and trademark information are generally provided for a fee.

Since there are variations in the scope of patent and trademark collections among the PTDLs, and their hours of service to the public vary, anyone contemplating use of these collections at a particular library is urged to contact that library in advance about its collections, services, and hours in order to avert possible inconvenience.
